Ulrika Domellöf Mattsson

Ulrika Domellöf Mattsson is currently an information specialist / open data manager at the Swedish Environmental Protection Agency. Ulrika has been a member of the national executive committee of the Swedish Library Association for many years and she has also been involved in different national library groups. Earlier, she was head of a network of governmental libraries within the Swedish Library Association. She is now working on a Swedish Strategy for Environmental Data and on how to make Datasets available, a project mentioned as a good practice by OECD. She is also supporting the new e-management authority in Sweden in their mission to support open data publishing, data driven innovation and Artificial Intelligence. She also supports the Swedish Ministry of Environment with their work to fulfil the Aarhus Convention – your right to environmental information.

(November 2019)